- Definition: The time series shows the number of employed persons (active persons) in the tourism industry. The employed persons include active owners, unpaid family members who help out, and dependent employees. It is based on the Classification of Economic Activities, 2008 edition (WZ 2008). The following economic sectors are taken into account: transport (4910, 4932, 4939, 5010, 5030, 5110), accommodation and food services (5510, 5520, 5530, 5590, 5610, 5629, 5630), real estate (6810, 6820, 6831, 6832), rental and leasing (7711, 7712, 7721), travel agencies and tour operators (7911, 7912, 7990) and culture, entertainment and recreation (9001, 9002, 9003, 9004, 9102, 9103, 9104, 9200, 9311, 9313, 9319, 9321, and 9329).
- Disaggregation: economic activity

2. Comparability with the UN metadata

- Date of UN metadata: April 2025
- UN metadata: <https://unstats.un.org/sdgs/metadata/files/Metadata-08-09-02.pdf>
- The time series is compliant with the UN metadata. The positions required in the UN metadata for the fourth revision of the International Standard Industrial Classification (ISIC Rev. 4) have been assigned to the economic sectors of WZ 2008.

3. Data description

- The data is derived from the cross-sectoral business statistics of the Federal Statistical Office. These statistics cover all companies in economic sectors B to N and P to R and divisions S95 and S96 according to WZ 2008 with headquarters in Germany. In addition to manufacturing, this also includes other productive industries, trade, hospitality, and services.

The cross-sectoral business statistics provide information on the structure and economic activity of companies in Germany for the entire economy. On this basis, statements can be made about the importance and economic performance of companies by economic sector. Key characteristics are: number of companies, turnover, persons employed, investments, gross value added, personnel expenses, and purchases of goods and services.
